

Soup for Everyone

Unit 1 • Week 1 • Wednesday Storytelling

In Dramatic Play, Ava tied on an apron and picked up a pretend spoon.

“I’m making soup!” she announced.

“What kind?” asked Mateo.

Ava looked around the pretend kitchen. “Carrot, noodle, blueberry soup!”

Mateo laughed. “Can I help?”

He found a bowl and pretended to wash the vegetables. Ava stirred the pot. Soon two more friends came over.

“I’m hungry,” said Layla.

“We need enough for everyone,” Ava said.

The children found more bowls. Mateo set the table. Layla made pretend sandwiches. Another friend poured pretend water into cups.

When everything was ready, Ava carried the pot carefully to the table.

“Soup for everyone!” she said.

The friends sat together and pretended to eat.

“This is the silliest soup I ever tasted,” Mateo said.

“And the best!” Ava answered.

The children laughed. Their pretend kitchen had become a place where everyone had a job and everyone belonged.
